7.1.10(3) The Institution organizes professional ethics programmes for students, teachers, administrators and other staff

The Institution recognizes the vital importance of instilling professional ethics across all levels of its community. To this end, it organizes comprehensive ethics programs tailored for students, teachers, administrators, and other staff members. These programs are designed to foster a culture of integrity, responsibility, and respect within the institution.

For students, the programs emphasize the significance of academic integrity, highlighting the pitfalls of plagiarism and cheating, and the value of honesty in academic pursuits. Teachers are equipped with the best practices for maintaining professional conduct in the classroom, ensuring a respectful and nurturing learning environment.

Administrators and staff are also a key focus, with training sessions aimed at ethical decision-making and the responsible management of institutional resources. These programs often include workshops on digital ethics, promoting the responsible use of technology and social media.

Furthermore, the institution addresses the importance of cultural competence, encouraging the appreciation and respect of diverse backgrounds and perspectives within the educational setting. By integrating these ethics programs into the institution's framework, it aims to create a cohesive, ethically-minded community that upholds high standards of professional conduct.

Overall, the institution's commitment to professional ethics ensures that all members are well-equipped to navigate complex ethical situations with integrity and confidence.

By knowing the importance of Human values and ethics we also included the Universal Human Values Course as a optional subject and it give the students to understand the importance of Relations, ethics, Values, Humanity & Harmony in Society.

To make students understand about the Humanity we go through various Orientation Programs as well as to maintain our code of conduct we always have the induction program on every year for the newly admitted batch of students. The list of programs of orientations are attached.

Orientation program on” Cultural Competency & Value Behavior”

The Institution organized an orientation program on "Cultural Competence & Value Behavior" to promote understanding and respect for diversity among students, teachers, administrators, and staff. The program aimed to foster an inclusive environment where everyone feels valued and respected, regardless of their cultural background.

Objectives of the Program:

- Promote Understanding and Respect for Diversity
- Appreciate Diversity and Foster Empathy
- Enhance Cultural Awareness and Sensitivity
- Identify and Overcome Cultural Biases
- Instill Core Ethical Values
- Encourage Continuous Education and Awareness
- Build a Cohesive and Respectful Community

The event began with an opening address by an expert in cultural competence, who emphasized the importance of appreciating diversity and fostering empathy in professional and personal interactions. The speaker highlighted real-world examples and shared best practices for creating an inclusive environment.

Interactive workshops were conducted to engage participants in discussions about cultural awareness, sensitivity, and the importance of valuing different perspectives. Activities included role-playing scenarios and group discussions, allowing attendees to reflect on their own cultural biases and learn how to overcome them.

The program also included sessions on value behavior, where participants explored the core values that underpin ethical behavior, such as integrity, respect, and responsibility. These sessions provided practical strategies for incorporating these values into everyday actions and decision-making processes.

Feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing a deeper understanding of cultural competence and a commitment to fostering a more inclusive and respectful environment. The Institution plans to continue offering similar programs to ensure ongoing education and awareness.

Overall, the orientation program was a successful step towards promoting cultural competence and value behavior within the institution, reinforcing its commitment to diversity, inclusion, and ethical conduct.

Orientation program on “Digital Ethics” on 23th September, 2023

On 23rd September 2023, the Institution conducted an orientation program on "Digital Ethics," aimed at educating students, teachers, administrators, and staff on the importance of ethical behavior in the digital world. The program was a significant step in fostering a culture of responsibility and integrity when interacting online and using digital tools.

The orientation began with an insightful keynote address by a renowned expert in digital ethics, who highlighted the crucial aspects of online privacy, digital footprints, and the ethical use of social media. Participants were introduced to real-life scenarios that illustrated the consequences of unethical digital behavior and the importance of maintaining digital integrity.

Workshops were conducted throughout the day, focusing on various topics such as cyberbullying, data protection, and the ethical use of digital resources in academic settings. These interactive sessions allowed participants to engage in discussions, share their experiences, and learn practical strategies for ethical digital practices.

Feedback from attendees indicated that the program was highly informative and relevant, providing them with the knowledge and tools to navigate the digital landscape responsibly. The Institution plans to hold similar programs regularly to ensure continuous education on digital ethics.

Overall, the orientation program was a resounding success, reinforcing the Institution's commitment to promoting ethical behavior in all aspects of its community.
